Please help by supporting Wildbird Recovery's biggest fundraising event of the year!

The 9th Annual Wildbird Recovery Fall Migration Festival will be held on Sunday, September 20, 2020. This is an engaging afternoon of education, delicious food (by Lisa King of Freedom Farms), and the opportunity to tour the property and meet our education birds. Guests can learn about the amazing Reptiles and Amphibians that call Western PA home with naturalist and herpetologist April Claus. We will also have fellow waterfowl wildlife rehabilitator Mary Beth Molnar speak about the fascinating Wood Duck. We hope you join us and experience a unique fundraising event that benefits the birds of Western PA.

To make it happen, we need your help. Wildbird Recovery has a need for support in the form of event sponsorship. We also can use silent auction items, business gift certificates, and raffle basket donations. No donation is too small! To show our appreciation, your business will be listed on our website www.wildbirdrecovery.org and on our Facebook page.

A non-profit organization that relies solely on donations, Wildbird Recovery is the only wildlife rehabilitation center in Butler County. We help hundreds of injured songbirds and birds of prey every year from all over Western Pennsylvania, with treatments costing an average of $47 for each bird that is admitted. Your generous donation will allow us to provide continued assistance to the birds in our care.

Nature lovers like you play a vital role in Wildbird Recovery's mission. Your support will ensure our fundraiser is a successful one!

Sincerely yours,

Wildbird Recovery
